Heads of Families of McLean County, Ill. at the Census of 1840.

Introduction.

N. B.

The sheets of the original manuscript of this census, (about thirty in number) were arbitrarily lettered by me, to facilitate future reference, there being nothing whatever to indicate what the original order of their arrangement might have been. In the year 1840, McLean County, Ill. contained all the territory included within its present boundaries, also the present townships of Minonk, Clayton, Linn, Roanoke, Greene, Paola, El Paso, Palestine, Ohio (except a small strip on the west side) Kansas, and part of Montgomery, in Woodford County. Its boundaries remained thus until Woodford County was established, Feb. 27, 1841. (See "Blue Book" of Illinois 1905. pp. 429-430.) I made an effort to determine what part of the county each "head of family" herein enumerated had settled, giving the names of the various townships afterwards formed in their respective localities, by the aid of the county history's and the recollections of a few of the oldest pioneers still living I also made an effort to determine the occupations in the same way. A few of the names still remain to be identified and quite a few could not be determined with certainty. I wish to acknowledge the assistance of Mr. Wm. J. Rhodes of Bloomington, Ill. Mr. John C. Haybarger of Mackinaw, Ill. and Mr. G. W. Henry of Danvers, Ill. I have supplied and filled out many abbreviate and incomplete names in the same way. It would seem that the enumerator had omitted a few names. Among these who are known to have been heads of families and citizens of McLean County in 1840, were Abraham W. Carlock, Dr. Henry Conkling, Johnson Gunnell, George F. Hay, George Hinshaw, Sr. Enoch Hieronymus, William Hieronymus, William T. Major (?) Samuel T. Richardson, John B. Messer, Ormond Robison, John B. Thompson, James Van Scyoc, Henry Van Sickles, Madison Young and perhaps others. The enumerator may also have included by mistake a few families living outside the bounds of McLean. The 1092 heads of families he enumerated were the ancestors of countless thousands now scattered all over the country.

Milo Custer.
